

Montagskolloquium

Image by: thirivong, Getty Images/iStockphoto

Spring
2024

Organization: Martin Meiske
and Fabienne Will,
in cooperation with
Roland Wenzlhuemer

Starts 4:30 p.m. at Deutsches Museum, Bibliotheksbau, Alter Seminarraum

For information about the online participation, please visit:

<https://www.deutsches-museum.de/forschung/forschungsinstitut/vortragsreihen/montagskolloquium>

Global Envirotech Histories. Knowledge and Artifacts in Motion

22
APRIL

Dis:connectivity in Global History. A Tale of Two Islands
Roland Wenzlhuemer LMU Munich / global dis:connect

06
MAY

Imperial Geography, Climate Science and the Habitability of the Silk Roads
Lachlan Fleetwood LMU Munich / global dis:connect

27
MAY

'Tool of Empire' or a Technological Modernisation?
The British Railway Musings in Tanganyika
Frank Edward University of Dar es Salaam

10
JUNE

Many Lives of Obsolete Ships, Waste, Labor, and Livelihoods at Shipbreaking Yards in India
Ayushi Dhawan Azim Premji University, Bhopal

17
JUNE

Using Digital Tools to Explore and Visualise the Colonial Histories of Scientific Instrument Collections
Rebekah Higgitt National Museums Scotland

08
JULY

From Natural History to Environmental History: Displacements in Mexican Museums and the Heritage Sector
Cintia Velázquez Marroni Instituto Mora, Mexico City

Münchner Zentrum
für Wissenschafts- und Technikgeschichte

Deutsches Museum

gd:c global dis
:connect